the med Flog. And now, at lest, we are all astounded and dumbfounded at what has occurred and is still occurring at Chicago, Bay View and Milwaukee. We know now what the , 'Red Fisg' means. We have had a practical taste of the doctrines of the Anarchists who have swarmed to our shores' from Continental Europe, and like so many vipers warmed themselves in our besom. We know at length that they really do mean what they preach, and what they were driven out of Europe for preaching, and that to murder, burn and destroy is actually their mission on our shores, and that to murder, burn and destroy is actually their mission on our shores.

The American people are the most patient people on earth. They go to the last length of toleration in the matter of speech. They are used to the extravagancies of campaign oratory and have learned to take it at a discount. Hitherto they have not believed that there could be any serious purpose on the part even of a handful of persons to reduce to practice in this couetry the odious doctrines so long advocated in a sort of subterranean way on the other side-of the ocean. An American cannot see any sense in such diabolical theories, and hence he does not believe that any one can mean business when he advocates them.

But we know better now. We can see that these bloody miscreanis with unpronouncable names really do mean business, and that it is only a question of opportunity as to when and where they will inaugurate a reign of riot, bloodshed and burning. They are in our midst to destroy. They have no idea of working for a living in the manager aspect which hear of the party to personal likes and dislikes, the had the lamber of the living the living juntas in all the principal cities and publiah considerable "Red Fisg" literature.

Their German psper in Chicago is one of the most bloodthirsty of its class. It has openly counselled workingmen to prepare dynamite and inaugurate in connection with the eight hour movement a campaign of arson and murder. By its advice the bombs that were so murderously thrown bombs that were so murderously thrown recovery the police on Monday evening, some. among the police on Monday evening, killing and horribly mullating a number of them, were prepared for the occasion and carried in the pockets occasion and carried in the pockets of the wretches who throw them.
The leaders filed from the scene when they saw that their advice had been put in practice, but yesterday editor Spies and several of his immediate gang were arrested, and it is to be hoped that if there is the semblance of the country large over the country large over the country large of the country large of the country leading to the country law still left they will be put through to the fullest extremity. It is also to be thought that this illustration of the outcome near the site of an ancient salt well that hoped that this illustration of the outcome near the site of an ancient salt well that hoped that this illustration of the outcome of the teachings of these secoundrels will be sufficient to work public opinion up to the point of demanding that the incendiaty utterances of the the whole tribe, wherever, ventilated, shall be the signal wherever ventilated, shall be the signal for their arrest. Toleration was never meant to cover the advocacy of murder and rapine. We need to take in sail in our ideas on this subject. This foreign poison must have an antidote vigorously

The Martiu Irous Class of Leaders.

A few weeks ago Martin Irons was living at Sedalia, Mo., all unknown to the world as Master Workman of district No. 101, K. of L. Now he is known very generally throughout the United States as the precipitate man who took the bit in his teeth and ordered a strike that did not receive the approbation of the chief of his order, but that on the contrary was pronounced uncalled for and unwise by him, and that has at last after inflicting great loss upon his fellow workmen and upon every interest involved, ingloriously collapsed.

There was an ambitious person once who burned a great temple at Epheaus, not one feature of which could he have The Martin Irons Class of Leaders.

not one feature of which could he have constructed, in order that he might be as constructed, in order that he might be as much talked about as the great artisan who designed the classic structure. He could win fame by destruction but not by construction, and was willing to have it that way. As he could no become glorious in the memory of men he could at least become notorious.

And so with, this man Martin Irons. He could probably never plan a great labor organization of any kind, but he could we presume do as much as any other one man to destroy it. If the Knight of Labor maintains itself hereafter on the line of the mintains itself hereafter on the line of the basiness of one railroad, not offending at the time, in order to get at another railroad that had to be disciplined. The old doctrine that "the end justifies the means" was invoked and sought to be put in practice by this highly orignal and reckless man. He did not care how many thousand people might be thrown on to employment nor how long they might stay out, nor what they might auffer, nor whether the half of them might find their places filled and their occupation gone at the end of his causeless atrike. No, he was really indifferent to all this and wicked and reckless enough to do what he did do without justification, and to put all the interests of his order that should have been without justification, and to put all the in-terests of his order that should have been sacred to a conscientious man at stake on the hazard of success. No one need envy the reflections of Mr. Martin Irons, as he now surveys the

for all that they have lost in the last two o their old places, nor yet to secure them imployment elsewhere. He has simply rdered them out to their indefinite injury and thus left them, while he will probably return to his professional position as Master Workman of district assembly 101, We say probably, for we see it stated that so great is the dissatisfaction with him that his valuable services will hereafter be dispensed with. A general, who with-

"Tell me, darling," said George, after a long, delicious allence, "why did you want me to sign that paper? Do you not repose implicit confidence in my love for out consultation with his chief, should ommit such an egregious and criminal folly as this man Irons has committed would be court martialed and degraded to repose implicit connuence in my original you?"
"Ah, yes," she sighed, with infinite content, "indeed I do; but George, dear, I have been fooled so many times." the ranke, and this is at least as little pupishment as should be inflicted upon this reckless destroyer of so many men's chances in life, to say nothing of all the

There are some of these afore-mentioned gentlemen who are gifted with a long insight into futurity, and there are others who don't require the aid of an exceedingly lively imagination to picture the Governor playing amash with the Democratic party with just such weapons as the re-assessment order.
